DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

Claims 1-2, 10-11, 13-20 and 23-28 remain for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of title 35 US Code not included in this action can be found in the prior Office Action.

The rejection of claims 1-2, 10 and 16-20 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over U.S. Patent No. 5, 607, 504 to Schmid et al. alone or in view of the article entitled "Pigment for high performance" as generally set forth in the first office action mailed 07/11/2008 stands.

The rejection of claims 1-2, 10, 13-14, 17-18 and 25-26 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 00/09617 alone or in view of the article entitled "Pigment for high performance" as generally set forth in the first office action mailed 07/11/2008 stands. .

The rejection of claims 11, 15, 23-24 and 27-28 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over U. S. Patent No. 5, 607, 504 to Schmid et al., in view of U. S. Patent No.

3389105 to Bolger et al. alone or in view of the article entitled "Pigment for high performance" .as generally set forth in the first office action mailed 07/11/2008 stands.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 07/11/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In general, applicants argue that all the primary references disclose multiple coatings (layers) of pigment. The Examiner respectfully submits that the instant application recites the transitional term "comprising", which is inclusive or open-ended and does not exclude additional, unrecited elements or method steps. The prior art disclose that silica is the only layer coated on the substrate, thus reading on the claimed added limitation because this limitation does not exclude other layers that are coated on the preceding layers. Additional layers are coated on the silica layer and not the substrate.

Applicants argue that the references are silent about the properties of the pigment, such as resistance against sweat and saliva. The Examiner respectfully submits that the references teach the pigment with a layer of same material, such as silica, with an overlapping thickness coated on the substrate as applicant disclosed in the instant application, therefore, it would be expected that the pigment disclosed by the references has the same or similar properties absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicants argue that the silica amount in the pigment of the reference (Schmid et al) is much higher than that of the instant application. The Examiner respectfully submits that the amount of the silica in the pigment is in the range of the amount claimed by the instant application.

On page 13 of the response, applicants provide a table to show that Schmid et al. teaches away from the claimed ratio (instant claim 16) and this is not persuasive because (1) a reference can be used for all it realistically teaches and is not limited to only the examples and the reference clearly teaches the claimed ratio, as defined in the previous office action and (2) "teaching away" is a situation in which the reference states that something could not be done or is detrimental and the reference never makes this statement.

On page 15 of the response, applicants provide a table to show that Andes does not teach the claimed ratio (instant claim 16). The Examiner respectfully submits that claim 16 is not rejected under Andes et al. as regarding to the silica amount in the pigment.

Applicants argue that it is not clear why the citation of the reference "pigments for higher performance" was used. The Examiner respectfully submits that the above reference is used to show it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention by applicants to use metallic substrate with higher purity, as applicants disclosed in the instant application.

Applicants argues that Bolger disclosing a metal pigment coated with a layer of resin. The Examiner respectfully submits that Bolger is used to show that gold and bronze are widely used in metallic pigment. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
